

THE USEFULNESS OF THE INTERNET

You can find everything you don't know and want to learn on the Internet.

You can work and make money online for you and your family.
You no longer have to worry about your hairstyle and what you will wear at work.

The office feels empty with so many people opting to work from home full-time.

You can express yourself creatively online, by recording you tube shows or podcasts, for example.

You can learn something you don't know completely online, such as a foreign language or a new computer program.

You can chat with another who lives across the ocean via video call for free.
